Ten Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

What Happened to Money?

A bank recently undertook to explain the money shortage. What was surprising is that it used unbankly terms to do it. Even laymen can understand the explanation.

Everyone knows that home mortgages are very hard to come by. And the rate of interest is awfully high.

Major reason for this situation is that most of the money previously available for mortgage loans has been transferred to more lucrative investments.

For example: 8 out of every 10 dollars usually available for home loans comes from mutual savings banks, savings and loan associations, and from commercial banks.

But people have not been "putting their money in the bank" where it earns 5-6 percent which is permitted by law.

Instead, they have been using their savings to invest in U.S. Treasury bills and other securities that pay 7-8 percent and more.

Those who invested to get a higher yield were helping the process called "disintermediation."

This ponderous word is the definition of the process of taking money out of the regulated organizations through which mortgage money usually flows to the housing market and putting it in the free market where it can earn more interest.

These figures are astronomical!

Last year when the Federal Reserve Board was pushing up interest rates, people put $10 billion less into commercial bank savings accounts than they did the year before. In savings and loans alone, they put in almost half as much as they did in 1969.

In the fourth quarter of last year people actually withdrew about $500 million. In the same period the year before they had added $7 billion to their savings accounts.

No wonder mortgage money is hard to find. Lending institutions cannot make loans unless they can attract people's savings.

No one will blame people for wanting to get as big a yield on their savings as it is safe to do.

But you can blame regulators for tinkering.

Federal Reserve squeezed the supply of money and pushed up rates of interest but clamped a lid on the interest banks and savings and loans could pay their savings customers.

Recently, Fed saw the stupidity of its ploy when the home building market went sour. Regulators rushed in to aid with changes in interest rates that were too little and too late.

President Nixon has recommended a major study of financial institutions to overcome the resultant confusion.

Few people would argue that some way must be found to give banks and savings and loan institutions sufficient flexibility to meet the demands of a rapidly growing modern community.

He should also include in the study the unusual activities of Federal Reserve which has such a tremendous effect on everyman's savings — and so little responsibility.

Battleline Humor

Leave it to Americans for gruesome humor in serious situations.

What must have been the auto of a recent returnee had a message on its bumper that is a perfect example.

The sign read:

"Vietnam. Love it or leave it!"

Telemart Membership Drive In Operation

The membership drive for Telemart, a new shop-at-home-by-phone supermarket operation, is underway in San Diego County, the pilot area for this revolutionary computerized shopping concept.

Telemart customers who purchase $2 memberships can do all of their supermarketing by picking up the phone and calling a TeleShopper who connects them with "Clara The Talking Computer." Clara, who takes their order, programs it, and directs one of 75 delivery trucks to their homes.

Every type of food product, health-beauty aids, drug prescriptions, record albums, liquor and travel agency services will be offered to Telemart members who will be billed by monthly statement. Shoppers are advised of the 3,000 items for sale through television and radio commercials, newspaper ads and Shopper's Guide, a special publication issued every quarter.

Competitive pricing of items and savings on large volume orders are expected to offset the $1 delivery charge. The Shopper's Guide also will advise customers on how they can save money through menu planning and the avoidance of impulsive buying influenced by product displays in conventional supermarkets.

The idea behind this operation is not entirely new. Telemart has taken the home-delivery concept of the Twenties, endowed it with the vast variety of modern supermarket products, and modernized it through use of advanced computerization methods.

The talking computer, developed by the Rohr Corporation, is capable of quoting prices to callers, totaling the cost of the order, routing delivery, calculating inventory depletion and preparing billing.

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department answered four fire calls for the week of Apr. 6-13.

Apr. 6 at 9:27 a.m., firemen went to the home of Leon Brown, 2028 Dayton st. A clothes hamper was afire after being too close to a bathroom heater. About $20 damage was reported to the contents.

Apr. 7 at 11:14 a.m., firemen went to the 3700 block Massachusetts ave., at the freeway underpass. A Corvair car of an older vintage, was burned in the amount of about $100 in the engine compartment, where the fire possibly started. The car belongs to George Handson, 10046 Park ave., San tee. Apr. 11, there were two calls: At 4:44 p.m. a trash fire at the Ace Drive In Theatre, with no damage; and at 10:11 p.m., a call to the Aero Titanium at 6510 Federal Blvd. At the second site there was a hydraulic line rupture which caused an excessive amount of smoke, but no damage.

Sandra Lee Sjogren Gets Miss Lemon Grove Title

Sandra Lee Sjogren, the 18-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sjogren, of 1534 Koe st. is Lemon Grove's loveliest young lady.

This was the judgement of a panel of five judges Saturday night when the Rotary club sponsored Miss Lemon Grove contest was held at the L.G. Junior High School.

More than 200 persons saw 10 of the town's most attractive lassies vie for the title — and more than $150 in prizes given by the local merchants.

Runners-up to Miss Sjogren were Marilyn Kotnik, a 19-year old Grossmont College sophomore who lives at 8055 Canton dr. and Sherri Lynn Brown, a 17-year old Mt. Miguel High School junior who lives at 2940 Crane st.

Miss Sjogren, whose father is a school district trustee and a lawyer, is a member of the modern dance club and the girls' ensemble at Mt. Miguel High School. She will attend Grossmont College after completing high school and then seek a career in the entertainment field, she said.

For those who are more concerned with physical mathematics of the contest, Miss Sjogren weighs 120 pounds and the weight is distributed on the basis of 35-25-35. She is 5'7"; has hazel eyes and blonde hair.

The contest was directed by "Molly" Mouillesseaux for the Rotary club. He was assisted by Drs. Richard Howard and Harry Sorteberg. Dr. Griff Clark was master of ceremonies.

Assisting in the contest was pleting high school and then

1969 Miss Lemon Grove, Marvin Meyer.

Miss Sjogren will compete for the title of Fairest of the Fair in a contest June 11.

Prizes were contributed by Delron Electronics, L.G. Florist, L.G. College of Beauty, Rexall drugs, Fran's Fashions, Walter Jewelry, Brumley's shoes, Red's Western Auto, L.G. Camera, and the College Grove Merchants' Assn.

Also given was a hand-carved mahogany throne with a red velvet seat. The throne, contributed by Warren's Maple Shop, will be used in all future Miss Lemon Grove contests, according to Mouillesseaux.

Miss Sjogren will represent Lemon Grove in all civic and community functions, said Tom Clayton, president of the Rotary club.

NME Buys Alvarado Hospital

SAN DIEGO — National Medical Enterprises of Beverly Hills, which operates an expanding family of health care institutions throughout California, has completed an agreement with Medical Growth Industries of San Diego to purchase the Alvarado Convalescent and Rehabilitation Hospital here.

Although exact terms of the transaction were not disclosed, the long-term care facility's land, buildings and equipment are valued at more than $3,000,000, according to Richard K. Eamer, National Medical's president.

NME has been operating the 309-bed hospital under a lease to MGI since it opened in November of last year and will continue present operations under its own ownership, Eamer said.

National Medical has also recently announced plans to build a $7.4 million, 310-bed acute hospital to be called "Alvarado Community Hospital" on land the company owns adjacent to the convalescent facility.

The facility, located at 6599 Alvarado Road, encompasses seven acres of land and 85,000 sq. ft. of floor space. It includes fully-equipped physical and hydrotherapy sections and four recreation lounges.

National Medical also owns and operates hospitals in Monterey Park, Compton, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Modesto and Lodi, all in California.

Nearly 70 smog cutter vehicles that run exclusively on super-cold liquefied natural gas will be in operation in the San Diego area by this summer, according to the San Diego Gas & Electric Company.

The "polar bear" fleet that uses LNG fuel will consist of 23 of the utility's vehicles, most of them service trucks; 25 State Division of Highway vehicles, including 15 passenger cars and 10 trucks; 18 San Diego Zoo tour buses, and two San Diego County passenger cars.

"The use of this clean-burning fuel instead of gasoline is expected to cut smog-producing emissions from these vehicles by about 85%," according to Joseph Sinnott, SDG&E president.

LNG is a liquid form of the same kind of natural gas that is used for cooking and heating. It is changed to a liquid by chilling it to -258 degrees Fahrenheit. The process reduces its volume by a ratio of 600 to 1.

Sinnott said that the company's LNG test and development program demonstrated that vehicles operating on LNG not only emit fewer pollutants than gasoline-fueled cars, but that they also perform as well or better and require less engine maintenance.

"One of the test vehicles has travelled nearly 58,000 miles without an oil change, and the oil is still clean and shows no chemical change," Sinnott said.

In connection with the vehicle conversion program, the company also announced that it has started construction on the first of three liquefied natural gas service stations to fuel these vehicles.

Volunteers to Aid Probation Department

The San Diego County Probation Department will mobilize citizen volunteer assistance for juvenile and adult offenders it was announced this week by K. F. Fare, County Chief Probation Officer.

Known as "Volunteers in Probation" (V.I.P.), the program is endorsed by the Superior Court. Volunteers working side by side with professionals should result in improved probation service and better protection for the community," Fare said.

He said that the program is in keeping with the recommendation of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice urging greater community involvement in the control of crime and delinquency.

There's a need to restore public confidence in our leaders and the best way to do this is to let the public know where the politician's interest might be in conflict with the public's interests," Unruh said.

Spring Valley Beautiful Campaign Ready Again

It's full speed ahead for the 1970 edition of the Spring Valley Beautiful campaign, according to Community Council president William Fitzpatrick.

Fitzpatrick and two of his committee members — Herb Ketell and Dr. Neil Hanson — met with disposal contractors last week and arranged for a two-day free trash pickup project.

Dependable Disposal, Thomas Disposal and Sani-Tainer Disposal agreed to put bins out May 16 and 17 to collect the community's refuse.

Such items as water heaters, old furniture and other objects normally too big to be easily disposed of may be dropped off at the bins.

Sites of the bins will be announced later.

Taking part in the arrangements were Richard Thorpe, County Sanitation Supervisor, and Harry LaDou, head of the War Against Litter committee.

Van Due Here Mon.

Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin will be here Monday.

He'll be in Lemon Grove at 11 a.m. at the office of this newspaper to greet those who want to meet with him about any matters.

He will speak a noon at the Lemon Grove Rotary club meeting at the L.G. Bowlero, according to Tom Clayton, club president.

The office of this publication is at 7834 Lester ave., Lemon Grove.

No appointment is necessary, Van said.

Fund-Raiser For COMBO

A month-long fund-raising drive aimed at business and industry will be launched Tuesday by COMBO (the Combined Arts and Education Council of San Diego County) as part of its expanded scope for 1970.

The drive — which will seek to increase support for cultural groups — is patterned after the United Community Services plan.

Walter F. Steidle, fund drive chairman, outlined the campaign at a breakfast meeting of businessmen this week. Steidle said this is the first year for COMBO to use the "united giving" approach in which each corporation or individual will be asked to give only once per year.

The COMBO beneficiaries for 1970 are: Old Globe Theatre, San Diego Opera Guild, San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association, San Diego Ballet Association, Young Audiences Inc., La Jolla Museum of Art, San Diego Civic Youth Orchestra and San Diego Junior Theatre.

Steidle said the spring drive will go to business, industry, the professions, government and, on May 1, to homes throughout the county.

Lt. Gen. Victor H. Krulak, USMC ret., is president of COMBO.

Monagan Urges Yes On Prop. 7

Proposition 7 on the June 2 primary election ballot has major significance for the people of California. It must be approved to avert disaster for the state's bond program, according to Assemblyman Bob Monagan.

"At the present time, $1.3 billion in bonds that have been approved by the voters cannot be sold because of the tight money market. The ceiling of five percent interest on the bonds is not sufficient to attract buyers. So, the state has been unable to sell its bonds, and vital state programs have been placed in serious jeopardy."

Four Star Campers Hit For $1600 Item

Late last Thursday night, an unidentified suspect(s) removed a lock from the gate of Four Star Campers, 6867 Fed. Blvd., and made off with a $1600 camper.

The thief also attempted to steal tires from a pick-up truck parked in the lot, but failed. The thief apparently used 2 camper jacks from the lot and a motorized camper carrier to load the camper onto their vehicle.

Serial number on the camper is S-2454-129.

Sermon-Lesson Set For Christ Science

The "oneness" of mankind that insures peace can be found in man's "at-one-ment" with God. This spiritual relationship is explained in the Lesson-Sermon on "Doctrine of Atonement" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, April 19.

The Lesson-Sermon begins with a Golden Text from John: "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

All are welcome to attend services starting at 11 a.m. at First Church of Christ Scientist Lemon Grove.

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

How is "me encanta" used? This expression looks like it might have a meaning similar to the English word "enchant." Is this so? Please show some examples of this phrase with related translations.

"Me encanta" literally means "it enchants me." This is taken from the verb "encantar" which means "to enchant" or "to charm." However it is more commonly used to convey "I love" or "I love it" in everyday conversation.

Thus we may say "me encanta la leche" for "I love milk" or "me encanta el queso" for "I love cheese."

To make the question form one may say "Le encanta?" for "Do you love it?" The question "Le encanta la comida Mexicana?" would be translated "Do you love Mexican food?" "Le encanta la playa?" means "Do you love the beach?" A simple answer for both of these questions could be "Me encanta" for "I love it."

An interesting derivation of "encantar" is "encantadora" (Charming). We may use this word in describing a person as seen in "Ella es una persona encantadora." (She is a charming person.)

Practice phrases listed below contain various uses of "encantarse." See if you can learn to say them with the aid of the recorded voice which says them for you when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

LETTERS

Dear Editor:

I believe if parents could look far enough ahead into their children's lives there might be several things they would eliminate.

First, I'd like to talk about the pleasure riding of motorcycles, trail bikes, and dune buggies. Besides being costly and noisy they are dangerous in so many ways.

If you knew your boy would die of a heart attack at an unreasonably early age would you still give in and let him ride around every spare moment he could spare from school, work and chores.

It seems, walking, hiking and bicycling are dirty words. Enjoying nature, really being aware of it has only gotten attention because of pollution.

Did you know that if you are an American male between 30 and 60 years of age, the odds are 1 in 10 you'll suffer some form of heart attack?

Dr. Paul Dudley White has said, "Exercise of the muscles is an essential to the health of man as is proper diet, sleeping and the use of the brain." Outstanding reasons for a heart attack are physical inactivity, increase in weight and improper diet.

I believe television also helps keep a child inactive physically and mentally.

Did you know during an average year a child 6 to 11... watches T.V. 1,340 hours — attends school 980 hours. By 18 a child has watched T.V. 22,000 hours — attended school 12,000 hours. Perhaps watching so much television has caused the reaping of the bitter harvest of alienation, frustration, cynicism and sadism. Maybe hours of passive exposure to false and degrading models of human life and behavior could contribute to every form of youthful mental illness and laziness.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Adela Marra

Schaefer Says Sue Automakers

San Diego Councilman Mike Schaefer, who has entered the county-wide race for district attorney, has proposed a $300 million law suit against U. S. manufacturers of autos.

The suit would be to recover loss to San Diego citizens for loss of property value or health attributable to air pollution by cars, he said.

The request was suggested in a memorandum to the city attorney.

The suit should be on the basis of $300 loss for each of the 1.3 million San Diego County residents, Schaefer said.

Schaefer's argument is that autos are the prime contributors of the smog in southern California.

He asked the city attorney to assign a deputy to evaluate a prospective class suit.

Boy Scouts in Annual Camp Tomorrow Night

Some fifteen hundred boy scouts and scout leaders will move into Sycamore Canyon, near the Santee Lakes, tomorrow night, in preparation for the annual Grossmont District Camporee.

After spending the night in Sycamore Canyon, the scouts will go through a skill events course that will lead them to the lakes, where a noon lunch will top off that portion of the affair.

Following lunch, the patrols will move out to the fun events at the Santee Lakes. The climax of the camporee will be Saturday night at 7:30 at the campfire. Awards for the top patrols in the skill events will be given out as other awards for various fun events.

The general public and parents are invited to the camp fire to be held near lake number 6.

A Camporee is held annually in the district to allow all the troops to enter competition in Scout events such as first aid, knot tying, compass, and signalling, and other skills.

All these events are requirements for second and first class ranks. Ribbons are awarded the patrols based on the number of points scored at each event, and are proudly displayed on the patrol flag staff.

Judging is done by the senior boys of the troops, the Scoutmasters themselves not judging their own units.

This year the Santee Water District has allowed the Boy Scouts to use their lakes to hold the fun events. There will be canoeing, fishing, and other events.

This year the theme will be Backpacking and the Camporee patch that is given to each boy participating is designed with this in mind.

The Grossmont District, realizing that Troops are not the only units in the Boy Scout program, has again invited the Cubs and Webelos as their guests. The Cubs and Webelos will have their own events and will be given awards at the campfire Saturday evening.

This year's camporee chairman is Robert Oliver of Troop 360 and an officer on the La Mesa Police Department. The camporee staff numbers about thirty-five men from the district pulling all the various parts of the camporee together so the boys will have a good, educational, fun time.

The greater San Diego County Fair, held last week end in Balboa Park, brought recognition to many area youths who picked up honors for their tedious work on their science projects this year.

Picking up special awards from the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove area were Tom Webster, a student at Monte Vista High School, and John Brock, one of many winners from Spring Valley Junior High School.

Webster picked up one of six sweepstakes awards given at the fair when he nailed down the top spot for junior boys. Tom is a freshman.

Inspired by a project he saw last year, Tom set to work last August on a model hurricane, improving and researching the idea as he toiled along.

Along with the model, he turned out a notebook of his research for the project, finishing the whole thing on the last day before the fair.

Brock picked up his special award from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for his project dealing with medical sciences.

NOW THIS BUTTON . . . — Navy man Robert L. Miller (right) of 1690 Drexel dr., Lemon Grove, discusses the use of a console used for multi-media teaching response with his supervisor at the Raytheon plant, Boydston Beal. Miller, who is currently participating in the Navy's Project Transition, hopes to enter San Diego State next fall.

Lemon Grove Sailor Learns Skill In New 'Project Transition'

For Lemon Grove Navyman Robert L. Miller, the Navy's "Project Transition" not only means learning a skill for civilian life, but getting the stimulus to return to college.

Miller, of 1690 Drexel dr., will be discharged this month after serving as a yeoman at the Fleet Anti-Submarine Warfare School in San Diego, and the USS Cascade in Rhode Island.

The Transition program is a relatively new project begun by the Department of Defense which assists servicemen heading for civilian life to obtain a usable job skill — particularly if they didn't have the chance to learn one while serving for Uncle Sam.

Regional offices of Project Transition, located at many bases around the country, cooperate with civilian industry in training servicemen in jobs which they can work at immediately after discharge.

In Miller's case the Raytheon Company gave him a job learning industrial relations in Portsmouth, R.I., near his present duty station at the Navy destroyer base in Newport, R.I.

Miller became involved in educational counseling and middle management practices of Raytheon, which produces electronic products for maritime use from factories all over the country.

"My business was face-to-face contact with employees advising them on jobs and educational opportunities within the company," points out Miller.

library, assisted the chaplain, gave examinations and lended educational services to the destroyers that Cascade serviced.

"After my experience in counselling sailors in the Navy and employees at Raytheon I see now how really important college is," Miller insists.

It's so important to Miller that he has applied for entrance to San Diego State College to continue his work on a bachelor of science degree.

He has already earned some credits from a college in Nebraska.

Miller's supervisor at Raytheon, Boydston Beal, a personnel and industrial relations executive, indicated much satisfaction with Miller's work at the company.

"If we had a job open for him, Bob could certainly be hired here," said Beal.

Walton Named All-American

Bill Walton, of Helix High School has been named to the All-American High School basketball team.

Bill hit 78% of his shots from the floor last year for the Highlanders, and led them to their second straight CIF championship.

Walton was one of two Californians to make the team, joining Greg Lee of Reseda.

Ranking 29th in his class of 601 students, Bill managed to pull down an "A" average along with 825 rebounds while helping his teammates win 33 straight contests in '69-'70.

Rockets Draft Nine More In Second Picking

Nine more college stars have been added to the San Diego Rockets 1970 draft list, General Manager Pete Newell announced last week.

The nine players bring to a total of 19 collegians drafted by the Rockets. The original draft was held, March 23. At that time the Rockets drafted ten players including forward Rudy Tomjanovich as their top choice followed by guard Calvin Murphy and forward Curtis Perry. The trio has already been signed to 1970 contracts.

Topping the supplemental list as the Rockets 11th round choice is 6-7 center-forward Ron Belton of Bellarmine College (Louisville, Ky.). Belton completed his eligibility in January and for six games, averaged 18.1 points a game.

Last year in 28 contests, he averaged 19.3 points and grabbed 11.7 rebounds a game. He was the Knights' Most Valuable Player in 1969.

Other draft selections include: 12th round, Jim Brooks, 6-8 forward from Nebraska; 13, Harry Lozon, 6-3 forward from Old Dominion College (Ill.); 15, Jay Bond, 6-9 center from University of Washington; 16, Dean Eloffson, 6-5 forward from Wayne State (Nebr.);

17, Dennis Dickens, 6-6 forward from Azusa-Pacific College; 18, Jeff Cunningham, 6-4 forward from UC Irvine; 19, Rick Erickson, 6-0 guard from Washington State.

The Irish Sweepstakes Trust has paid out over $480-million to lottery winners.

Padres Due Home Next Week For Test Against Philadelphia

Coming home means something special most everybody. When you're a professional baseball player, it means more than seeing the family, eating your favorite food, wearing a clean shirt every day.

It means, especially when you're on a difficult road trip, soon playing before friendly faces, hearing encouraging sounds, receiving the cheers of an appreciative crowd.

For the Padres, who are on what might be their most testing road trip of the season, coming home this year will be something very special.

If the first three home games of the season were an indication, there's a new breed of baseball fan being born in San Diego.

"The crowd, especially on opening night, was terrific," insisted general manager Ed Die Leishman. "They were yelling, making noise, enjoying themselves. That's what we want."

And that's what the players want, too.

"We need fan support," said pitching coach Roger Craig. "Every athlete does. But because we're a young club, and an expansion team, maybe our players need it more than others."

Pat Dobson, the winning pitcher on opening night, said that the cheers of the fans certainly helped him over some rough spots.

"You hear the fans all the time and a player can tell when they're for him," the pitcher said. "The San Diego fans were great. I felt they were with me on every pitch and when things got tough, they sort of helped me reach down for that something extra.

The Padres this year have made a drastic and appealing change in the seating patterns for their general admission patrons.

Now at every game general admission fans sit in the left field plaza and field level seats, putting them right on top of the action.

"The first thing I noticed when we took the field," said manager Preston Gomez, "were the people. They seemed to be everywhere. And then they started to make noise and continued throughout the game."

"Sure, this helps our club. If you don't think that the home fans don't make a difference in winning, you're crazy."

The Met fans are banner crazy. The Cub fans have organized cheering. The fans in most every National League city have certain trademarks.

It won't be long before San Diego fans establish their own style. And it will continue to develop when the Padres return to San Diego Stadium for an 11-game home stand starting Friday, April 24 against the Phillies.

Home Show Booked For May

The 33rd annual Spring Home Show, sponsored by the Bureau of Home Appliances will double the size of any previous shows, reports W. P. "Pete" Wood, chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Bureau, a non-profit association of four hundred business firms in San Diego County.

Scheduled for all main display areas of the community concourse May 19 through 24, the expanded spring home show will present several entirely new features.

Many original showings of revolutionary new developments will be presented in the fields of home construction, remodeling, and modernization.

One entire home will be built inside the show, and several others of partial construction will be displayed to illustrate some of the startling new methods and materials now coming into the housing and remodeling market.

Visitors will walk through San Diego's first indoor garden lighting show, a completely enclosed and darkened area of some 6000 square feet in which will be shown the newest ideas in decorative lighting, fountains and garden accessories. This represents a co-operative effort by the entire electrical industry, according to J. Clark Chamberlain, Bureau Manager. Another "first" will present "Comfort Zone Living", a spectacular educational feature covering more than 3000 square feet, which is being sponsored by the entire air conditioning industry.

The show will open 6 p.m. Tuesday, May 19 with special ceremonies. Thereafter, hours will be from 1 to 10:30 p.m. daily through Sunday, May 24.

Imperial Bid Cools

SAN DIEGO — Negotiations which were to have led to the acquisition of Silverado Savings and Loan Association, Napa, Calif., by Imperial Corp. of America, the nation's third largest savings and loan holding company, have been terminated, Jack H. McDonald, ICA president, disclosed today.

McDonald said the decision was reached after regulatory bodies declined to approve the acquisition. Disapproval was based on the grounds that the acquisition could have violated anti-trust laws, McDonald said.

Miguel Students Take Campout

Approximately sixty Mount Miguel High students and many of their parents took part in a three day camping activity over the week-end.

The program, part of the compensatory education deal at the school, was known as "Outward Bound", and took the group to the South Jacumba, about 75 miles east of El Cajon.

Several of the group also took part in a survival hike.

The program's primary purpose is to help these students gain a more positive feeling of accomplishment and a better self image.

Bob Tinnin Completes Training

Robert Tinnin of Ned's Outboard, 7630 Broadway, Lemon Grove, has qualified as a factory-trained outboard mechanic, following completion of a training course at the Santa Ana Service School of Kiekhafer Mercury.

The school is a division of the Brunswick Corporation, manufacturer of Mercury outboard motors.

The course included daily instruction periods, supplemented by actual bench practice, blackboard sessions, group discussions and examinations.

"What really impressed me with the Project Transition position at the Raytheon plant was being able to participate fully in the job as an insider and not just as a casual observer," he said.

Raised on a farm in Arnold, Neb., Miller added that his jobs in the Navy and the one at Raytheon have helped him in learning to deal with people.

"Being in a rural area didn't give me much chance to be around people until I went to school, so I guess I was always a little shy around strangers."

On the destroyer tender Cascade in Newport, Miller administered the educational service office operated for the 650-man crew.

Miguel Spikers Smash El Cap 86 1/2-49 1/2 Friday

Mount Miguel was dealt losses on the tennis court, golf course, and baseball diamond, but the Matador spikers made up for it all last Friday on the track, with an 86 1/2-49 1/2 win over El Capitan.

Although the Matadors managed only seconds and thirds in the sprints and middle distance races, outstanding performances in the weight events and hurdles, helped put the team out of reach of the Vaqueros.

Billy Joe Winchester went along about his business in the shot put and discus throw, with marks of 62.2 and 178-10.

The Matadors also picked up a first and third in the 120-yard high hurdles, and a clean sweep in the 180-yard lows, along with a one-two punch in the two-mile.

Mount Miguel also made quick work of the relays, winning the 440-yard affair in 44.8, and picking up the mile in 3:34.

On the tennis court, Mount Miguel's outstanding racketeer, Lars Jonsson proved himself to be the league's premier tennis star, knocking off four opponents, including two previously unbeaten stars from Grossmont. Jonsson is now the only unbeaten player in the loop, sporting a 16-0 mark.

Despite Jonsson's superb play, however, the Foothillers remain undefeated with a 4-0 mark, after plastering the Miguelites, 21-7.

Mount Miguel is 3-1 in league action.

In baseball action, Mount Miguel played a tough game, but couldn't get a run across despite six hits, against Grossmont.

Grossmont pieced together two runs on four hits to even their league record to 2-2. Miguel is now 1-3 in loop play.

Gulls, Pads, Golf, Stocks And Parade Fill Weekend

By Chuck Curtis
This past weekend was really a busy one for this editor. In fact it is hard to remember a busier one.
It included interest in the Gulls, Padres, Masters Golf, Cajon Speedway and The World's Worst Parade.
Our wonderful San Diego Gulls are, at the time of this writing, locked in mortal combat with the mighty Vancouver Canucks in their divisional playoff games.
The Gulls provided us with many thrills this past season as they baffled their way into third place with some rough, tough hockey.

Early in the season we commented that the Gulls did not seem as physical as some of their opponents. This being the case, they have achieved the playoff berth through skill rather than brute strength and who am I to knock skillful players in any sport.

By the time you read this column it will probably have been determined if skill can defeat the combination of skill and brawn that makes up those very aggressive Canadians from Vancouver.

Looking at the TV this weekend it was our delight to see the Padres defeat the Los Angeles Dodgers Friday. Saturday they turned the trick again. Sunday the Dodgers finally put it all together and won their first game of the 1970 season.

What made the two wins more delightful than ever was the cry of the Los Angeles sports writers that the Dodgers were going all out for revenge. It was the Padres who knocked the Dodgers off in four straight games last year just when it looked like the Bums had up a head of pennant steam. They were only half a game off the pace when they came to San Diego and found it to be their Waterloo.

The Los Angeles papers were all filled with the Dodgers blood curdling claims of the vengeance they would take upon the upstart Pads, but when the dust had settled in Chavez Ravine, it was the Padres who walked off with the series.

While all this was going on a pair of San Diego golfers, Billy Casper and Gene Littler were ending the Masters Golf Tournament in Augusta, Ga., in a flaffooted tie.

As I am pounding these keys they are locked in an 18-hole playoff to decide which one of them will bring the championship home to San Diego.

With first and second assured in their great tournament it looks like San Diego Golf has really made it.

On the home front the action was in El Cajon Saturday night when the super stock cars went out for their first points of the season. It is a long season and far too early to tell who is likely to walk off with all the marbles, but one thing is certain, the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area will be very much in the fight.

Looking at the entries Saturday it was easy to see that this area has more representation than any other area in the Southland.

Sunday was the wrap-up. Now before the calls start, I know there are those who do not think of a parade as a sporting event. Agreed, but a parade still thrills this editor and Sunday's master piece was no exception.

Ernie Meyers World's Worst Parade limped and jiggled along Broadway with all the finesse of a group of tots playing at grownup games and it was a howl from end to end.

My moment of greatest pride came when those "lovelies" who make up the Lemon Grove Lemonettes made their appearance.

To watch our own Lucy Legs break out of the parade line to make a pass at a tall sailor was a howl.

Now I can hardly wait for May 23 and the Lemon Grove Oldtime Days Parade. Those "adorable" Lemonettes will be prominent in the line of march, along with dozens of other entries that will make it one of the finest parades ever seen in this or any other city.

Monte Vista Drops Three Encounters

Monte Vista High School had a tough time of it last Friday, as the track team fell to the ever-tough Granite Hills Eagles, 73-63, the golf team slipped up at Santana, 186-196, and the baseball squad was knocked off at Santana, 9-4.

The Granite Hills spikers hit the Monarchs in a spot where it's tough to win, the distance events.

Though the Monarchs generally sweep long races, the Eagles managed a second and third in the mile and grabbed the top spot in the two-mile.

Granite Hills got outstanding performances from Daryl Guthridge in the long jump (22-4 1/2) and triple jump (44-4).

Monte Vista couldn't catch the El Cajon school in the relays either, as the Eagles took both the 440 and mile relays.

In the golf match with Santana, the Monarchs got a fine round from Rob Vint, who team shot in the 39's and 40's, shot a 35.

Open and Pro-Am Events To Draw County Golfers

The San Diego County Golf Assn. will sponsor the 42nd annual San Diego County Open Golf Championship Saturday, Sunday and Monday, May 2, 3 & 4, at the San Luis Rey Country Club in Bonsall.

The field will be divided into four equal flights on the closing date, April 26, with the amateur prizes being awarded on the first 36 holes.

The low 20 scorers from the first flight will form the Championship Flight and play 54 holes in competition with the Professional Golfers for the County Open Championship, Sunday, Monday morning and Monday afternoon.

Entry fee is $15 for amateurs and entry blanks are available at all Pro Shops and the Association office. Phone 222-8175.

Preceding the Open — on April 27 — a Pro-Am will be held at the same location, San Luis Rey Country Club.

This event is limited to 108 amateurs and 36 professionals who will make up their own foursomes but the prizes will be based on low net by blind draw of foursome — 1 professional and three amateurs.

1st and 2nd place prizes will be awarded, based on the three low net scores of each playing team, plus one individual low gross and one individual low net of the field.

On-course refreshments will be served during the day which will begin with a shotgun start at 10:30 a.m. and an awards cocktail party will follow play.

Building Booms In LG-SV Area

There may be a building slow-down in California — but not in the Lemon Grove-Casa de Oro-Spring Valley triangle.

These communities accounted for more dollar value in building than any other community in San Diego County according to the County Building Inspection Department.

Dollar value represented by building permits during March was $2,208,000.

Included were permits for 66 one family dwellings; 2 duplexes; 109 units in larger than duplex buildings, and commercial structures.

Largest single community was S. Chula Vista with permits valued at $2,048,300.

Grossmont College Accepting Summer Session Applications

Grossmont College has commenced accepting applications for the 1970 Summer Session scheduled to convene on Wednesday, June 24. Anticipating the largest enrollment in Summer Session history, the college will offer over 100 different courses during the summer.

Additional classes have been added in many courses to accommodate the anticipated record enrollment. Application for enrollment is open to high school graduates, and other persons over 18 years of age who can profit from the instruction offered.

Preregistration tests and transcripts not required for admission to the summer session. There is no tuition charge; however, a $4 student service fee will be collected and students must purchase their own text books.

The Summer Session provides residents of the Grossmont Junior College District and adjacent communities with the opportunity to explore new subjects, take required courses or strengthen weak subject areas.

All courses carry college credit and are fully accepted on transfer by California state colleges and universities. Interested persons are urged to file application for admission to the summer session as soon as possible. Priority for registration is based on date of application.

Deadline for application is Tuesday, June 23. Application forms and a schedule of classes may be obtained in the Admissions Office.

Farmers Set New Record

A record agricultural production of $146.5 million was reached in 1969, according to James M. Moon, San Diego County Agricultural Commissioner.

This is $13 million higher than the previous record achieved in 1966. Moon noted that this total reports gross values only, and does not indicate that the farmer made a profit on his crops.

Eggs at $35 million and tomatoes at $30 million made up nearly half of the total value. For the first time in three years, egg prices were higher than the cost of production. Although tomato prices were somewhat lower than in 1968, yields per acre were better.

Computerized Adoption Makes First Placement

Adoptive placement resulting from selection of adoptive homes by computer has now become a reality in California, according to the State Department of Social Welfare.

The first such placement involved the cooperative placement of a child from a public agency in southern California with a family from a northern California office of Children's Home Society of California.

The computerized "adoption resource referral center," having tested and found valid the concept that a computer could make preliminary selections from the basic characteristics of relinquished children and adoptive parents, has achieved its first actual placement. Names of the parents and the child are being withheld in keeping with long-standing adoption policy.

This first placement involved nearly all elements of the problems the new computer system was designed to solve: it brought together a child and prospective parents from widely separated parts of the state; it merged the efforts of a private adoption agency with a public adoption agency; and it offered the agencies serving both the child and his eventual adoptive family an array of possible parents and children from whom selection could be made.

Honors for Goodwill Worker

Mrs. Jean F. Cockerill of San Diego, will be presented the Jessop perpetual trophy at a special honors luncheon of the Goodwill board of directors on Monday. The luncheon will be held at the headquarters for Goodwill Industries at 402 Fifth ave.

Smokers Declining

Regular or filter tip — the answer is the same — cigarette smoking has declined 12 percent in the last five years.

Richard Nevins, Southern California Member of the State Board of Equalization, noted "In 1969, California per capita consumption of tax-paid cigarettes was 122 packs in contrast with 139 packs in 1964, the year the Surgeon General warned the public of the hazards of smoking. The 1968 per capita consumption was 126 packs.

Exhibit Spotlights Food

SAN DIEGO — The way man approaches the preparation of his meals sets the dominant tone of a newly-opened Foods of the World display in Balboa Park's Museum of Man.

From the grains he chooses for bread-making to the manner in which he serves his meals, the show illustrates man's intertwining with foods from the earliest days to the space age.

Museum managing director Clerk C. Evernham said the exhibit, which may be viewed daily from 10 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., is designed to acquaint visitors with the origin of staple foods and their new, more exotic uses.

He said museum-goers are given an opportunity to sample taste honey cake from the Netherlands, Chinese puffs from Los Angeles, pan dulce from Mexico and authentic tortillas prepared at the exhibit.

Nearly 300 mortgage bankers from throughout the state are expected to attend the convention at the El Mirador Hotel.

Grossmont JC Presents Alfiere String Quartet In Fine Arts Program

Grossmont College will present the Alfiere String Quartet in a concert 8 p.m. tomorrow, in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall. The popular group has selected "Quartet Opus 18 in B flat" by Beethoven, and "Quartet" by Debussy for its evening program.

Led by Alfiere Perno, first violinist, the quartet includes Edelgard Perno, second violinist; Louise Morawek, violist; and Mary Louise Moore, cellist.

The group was formed in 1965 by members from the San Diego Symphony Orchestra. Organized as a means of relaxation and enjoyment for the musicians, the quartet performs only three or four concerts a year due to the limited time available for rehearsals.

Alfiere Perno is a graduate of the Conservatory of Music, Naples, Italy, and has been a member of the San Diego Symphony since 1952.

Edelgard Perno studied in Los Angeles under Peter Merremblum. She was a member of the New Orleans Symphony for four years before joining the San Diego Symphony in 1965.

Mary Louise Moore graduated from Pomona College and attended Juilliard Graduate School.

The public is invited to hear this outstanding local string quartet perform two favorites, with no admission charge.

Fair Action Tells Spring Is Near Again

DEL MAR — Although nearly three months remain before the Southern California Exposition is in full stride for 12 days from June 24 through July 5, several major attractions have already been signed for the enjoyment of fair visitors.

Familiar annual attractions that will be back at the 1970 Exposition include the nation's largest horse show with some 2,000 horses, the West's largest outdoor flower show under four acres of shade awning, thousands of trade and commercial displays, hobby, agriculture, and community exhibits.

Show business stars will include ballad singer Glenn Yarbrough and Western sweetheart Judy Lynn with her country band and $75,000 wardrobe.

For the past 21 years the official host and symbol of the Del Mar show has been Tom Hernandez, who is returning this summer to continue his role as Don Diego.

The theme this year will be Days of Don Diego. A feature display in Exhibit Hall will depict the theme as well as recognize San Diego County as the Flower Basket of the Nation.

Another major phase of the Exposition season is the annual hunt through local communities to find the young lady who will be Fairest of the Fair and reign with Don Diego during the 12 days of the fair. This year 26 contests are being held throughout the County with the county-wide Fairest of the Fair pageant scheduled for June 11.

Unruh Would Limit Campaign Costs

SACRAMENTO — Candidate for Governor Jess Unruh introduced legislation which would place flat limitations on expenditures for media advertising for state political offices, and which would enact the California Truth in Political Advertising Law.

One Unruh bill would require that in addition to naming the organization sponsoring a political ad the ad must contain a statement of its cost.

Another bill by the Democratic candidate for Governor provides that no more than one million dollars may be spent on campaign advertising by a candidate for Governor, and no more than $500,000 may be spent for such purposes by a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

"The cost of political campaigning today is a national scandal," Unruh said. "When we get to the point where a candidate for public office can literally 'buy' his election through mass, slickly packaged television ads, democracy as we know it is seriously threatened."

Aztecs, Alumnae In Red-Black Game

Some of the finest football talent in the country will be on display this Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Aztec Bowl when the 1970 San Diego State grid crew will meet alumni stars in the annual Red-Black game.

Coach Don Coryell has named Junior Brian Sipe as the starting quarterback. Joining him in the backfield will be halfbacks Marv Owens (who may do some signal calling as well) and Larry Mitchell and fullbacks Lindsey James and George Brown.

Sipe will be working without two-thirds of what could be the finest trio of receivers in the nation. All-America candidate Tom Reynolds and flanker Ken Burrow will miss the game although there is an outside chance Reynolds might put in an appearance. Stand-out tight end Tim Delaney will, however, be in the lineup.

Up front, the Aztecs will have veteran linemen Gary Flisher (center), Lee Felice (tackle) and Henry Allison (guard) along with new men Bruce Ward or veteran Bill Moore (guard) and Martin Imhof (tackle).

The Aztecs will open with a veteran defense headed by second-year linebackers Dallas Stahr, Gary Meek and Jeff Rasmussen and vet defensive backs Tom Hayes, Jon Robertson and Galen Pavelko. Only Willie Buchanan is a new man in the defensive backfield.

The alumni will counter with several established and prospective professional stars.

Dennis Shaw, second round draft pick of the Buffalo Bills, will open at quarterback and will have Edmonton (Canada) ace Tom Nettles to throw to. On the line, Buffalo veteran Dave Ogas gives strength at tackle as does Bill Pierson (12th choice of the New York Jets) at center.

Chargers Sign Davis Rookies

Defensive end Tim Williams and tight end Howard Gravelle, two big rookie hopefuls from small University of California at Davis, have signed to play for the San Diego Chargers, the club announced.

Williams, 6-foot-4, 245 pounds, was the Chargers' No. 2 draft choice; Gravelle, 6-4, 235, was the No. 12 selection.

An English major from Fair Oaks, Calif., Williams was Defensive Player of the Year in the Far Western Conference.

Gravelle, a philosophy major from Alamo, Calif., set seven UC Davis career pass receiving record including most passes caught, 118; most yards gained, 1,987, and most touchdowns 18.

San Diego General Manager Sid Gillman said Williams and Gravelle were "excellent prospects. The fact they come from a small school means nothing. Check the records and you will find that many of the greatest pros have come from small schools."
